SEPTEMBER 2013, VOL. 7, NO. 9

IAFP 2013 attendees now have the opportunity to access audio presentations, including Michael Taylor's Special Presentation, Proposed FSMA Rules on Imported Food, currently posted on our Web site (from presenters providing permission). Attendees received an E-mail on August 20 providing their Registration ID number (required for log in) and instructions on how to access the presentations. If you did not receive the E-mail, please contact the IAFP office. Recorded presentations will be available online by September 6 to non-attendees for a nominal fee.

Attendees will delight in the dozens of photos taken during IAFP 2013, now available at: <http://flickr.com/photos/iafp/>. And those who donated $5 to have their photo taken with Florida Association for Food Protection's "The Spillage People" can find their respective photo on this site as well. Watch for the November/December issue of Food Protection Trends, which includes IAFP 2013 in Review. This special section will provide a summary of each day's activities and minutes from all PDGs and committee meetings, list award recipients and include essays from all travel award recipients, highlighting their experiences while at IAFP 2013.

When one Annual Meeting ends, another begins. IAFP 2014 is scheduled for August 3-6 in Indianapolis, IN. Submission deadline for IAFP 2014 Workshops, Symposium and Roundtable Proposals is October 15, 2013. Abstract proposals are due January 21, 2014. Go here for more details.

IAFP 2014-2015 Secretary nominations are now open for candidates from the government sector. Letters of nomination, along with a biographical sketch, are being accepted until Tuesday, October 1, 2013 by the Nomination Committee Chair, Pascal Delaquis. For more information regarding requirements of the position, contact David Sharp, Executive Director, at +1 800-369-6337 or E-mail: dsharp@foodprotection.org.
